FACULTY AND PLANNING COMMITTEE

Dr. Beverly Browning
LLC

A grant writing course developer who has been consulting in the area of grant-writing, contract bid responses and organizational development for 43 years. Has assisted clients throughout the United States in receiving awards of more than $430 million. An accomplished author of more than 43 grant related publications. A consultant and an expert in the complexities of today's organizations, will shed light on how organizations can move forward in despite restrictions in the current times. Dr. Browning has brought up areas of care and focus as organizations identify their goals and the priorities that must be paid attention to.

In her book (6th ed), Grant Writing for Dummies explores various sources of grants that continues to be untapped and will prescribes on the intricacies of exploring these strategies and resources available.

Mindy Ofiana
MSN RN

Currently the Legislative chairperson of the PNA of America, she has authored multiple position statements that defines the stance of PNA in all these areas. Most recently, she wrote the position statements on racial equality in light of the George Floyd and the documented racial abuse of Asian and Pacific Islanders. Recognizes the major impact that professional nursing organizations can do to mitigate and anticipate future occurrences through proactive advocacy with relevant stakeholders. In this topic, Voices of Leadership is truly a timely and appropriate discussion at this current time.

Maria O'Rourke
PhD RN FAAN
FAHN

Distinguished nursing icon and leader whose early work in 1965 as an activist witnessed the serious lack of understanding of professional RN role. This led to her legislative efforts where she was instrumental in rewriting the California Nursing Practice Act in 1974 which transformed the role of the RN in California as an equal professional partner on the interdisciplinary team. Her clarity of thought on the profession as a discipline and the RN role within that discipline was the impetus for development of her role based practice theory which posits that role clarity is linked to role identification and role enactment/compartment.

Gloria Beriones
PhD RN

A nurse leader with over forty years of exemplary contributions to nursing practice, education, and research. Currently, the Staff Development Coordinator at Michael E. DeBakey Veterans Affairs Medical Center, Houston, Texas. A speaker locally, state, national, and international levels. Has presented numerous topics on leadership, clinical practice, education, and research; has written articles and publications.

Has served in the Philippine Nurses Association in various capacities as chapter president, national education chair, regional vice president and the current president-elect.

Led the planning of the successful 40th PNA National Convention held in Atlanta in 2019.

Marlon Garzo Saria
